

If we had no winter, the spring would not be so pleasant;
if we did not sometimes taste of adversity,
prosperity would not be so welcome.

(Anne Dudley Bradstreet, 1612~1672)

